

Reading Matters at Home: Reading Together Workshop

This is an informal and fun workshop designed to engage and encourage parents and carers to confidently and enthusiastically support reading development at home. It helps create a stronger and mutually beneficial home/school partnership.

Overview

---

- 2 hour informal workshop
- Up to 20 participants
- Can be delivered in school, local library or community centre
- All training notes provided by Reading Matters

Content

---

The workshop provides parents and carers with the confidence and skills to:

- Understand how to help school-age children with their reading at home
- Encourage the home/school partnership
- Develop ideas for sharing reading
- Improve their own confidence
- Understand Reading for Meaning
- Choose appropriate resources

Cost

---

£495 per course - as little as £25 per head if full number of participants takes part.

Next steps

---

Participants can extend their learning and gain a nationally recognised accreditation by participating in Reading Matters' Parents and Carers as Partners Training – National Open College Network Level 2.